tember 12. FIRE IN OSCIOLA MINE.

Impossible to Tell Whether the Flames Are Gaining or Abating. Houghton, Mich., Sept. 9 .- The opening of the surface of the burning shaft of the Osceola mine near Calumet has been rendered airtight by heavy timber covered with closely packed dirt. The new shaft north has been similarly overed and the smoke from the burning timber in No. 3 shaft and the drifts adjoining is now rolling out in dense volumes from No. 4 shaft, several hundred feet to the south.

Owing to the sealing of No. 3 shaft it is impossible to judge whether the fire is gaining headway or abating. The only precedents from which the probable duration of the fire can be guessed are supplied by the three big fires which have ravaged the Calumet and Hecla mines. The greatest of these burned for months and was extinguished only by flooding the mine with water.

The fire started in the lagging or stull timber in the drift of the twentyseventh level within twenty feet of the
